Rita: I am fine, Sam. What about you?

Sam: I am great.

Rita: So, have you read any new book in this week?

Sam: Oh yeah, I have read 'Robinson Crusoe'.

Rita: Who is the writer of this book?

Sam: Daniel Defoe is the writer. He is a very famous novelist and written lots of amazing books.

Rita: How was the book? Did you enjoy it?

Sam: Yes, I enjoyed it a lot. It is one of the most interesting books I have ever read in my life.

Rita: Oh really? Can you share a few words from there? What is it all about?

Sam: It is about a person named 'Robinson', who spends 28 years on an island, lonely.

Rita: OMG, it seems so much adventurous.

Sam: Yes it is. His ship faces a huge storm and he fortunately survives and finds him on the island lonely. And he starts spending his life there.

Rita: How did he survive?

Sam: He did lots of hard work and that person was so much dedicated and hard work. This book is inspiring too.

Rita: Then was he able to get back from the island to his country?

Sam: Yeah, he got back after 28 years with the help of a person named 'Friday'.

Rita: Who was Friday?

Sam: Friday was a person who was a victim of some 'man-eaters' and Robinson saved him from these man-eaters. And then Friday became his servant and started to live with him.

Rita: Oh, I need to read this book. Do you still have this for you?

Sam: Yes, I have. Do you want it?

Rita: Yes, I want.

Sam: Okay, I will bring that book with me tomorrow.

Rita: Thank you so much, Sam.

Sam: You are welcome Rita.
