A Dialogue between Two Friends on Plastic Pollution: 1

Nisha: Hi, how are you, Meher?

Meher: I am fine. How are you? Why are you looking so worried?

Nisha: I am okay, but I am a bit tensed for our environment.

Meher: Yes, our environment has lots of problems and dangers.

Nisha: Yeah, I have read an article in today's newspaper about plastic pollution.

Meher: Oh, what have you learned?

Nisha: I learned that plastic pollution is a big threat to the entire environment. It is hampering everywhere in the biodiversity.

Meher: Oh God, I never heard about that before. Can you share with me more?

Nisha: Yes, of course I can.

Meher: Are you talking about the plastics that we are using regularly?

Nisha: Yes. We use plastic bags and most of the food and other stuff are packed by plastics. Do you know what we do with the wastage plastics? We throw them away. It's a type of material that stays the same for hundreds of years under the soil and spoils the soil's ability to grow trees and other plants.

Meher: Oh my god. Then what should we do to prevent this problem?

Nisha: We need to reduce using plastics.

Meher: Is that even possible?

Nisha: Why not? There are lots of countries in the world where plastic is totally banned. Look at Bhutan and few other European countries. They have banned plastic completely.

Meher: I didn't know about that. But I think this is a challenging decision to make for a country.

Nisha: Yes it is.

Meher: Then what can we do now?

Nisha: We shouldn't throw the plastic here and there. We should keep it in the recycle bin. If we keep plastic there then these plastics will go to a place where they will recycle them and release them as new plastic.

Meher: That's a good idea. This will save the environment.

Nisha: Yes.

Meher: Thank you so much for your information.

Nisha: You are welcome. Take care; see you, bye for now.

Meher: Bye.

A Conversation between Two Friends on Plastic Pollution: 2

Taara: Hi, how are you Tania?

Tania: I am fine Taara, what about you?

Taara: I am good. Have you attended today's workshop on 'environmental pollution'?

Tania: Yes, I was there. I saw you there too.

Taara: Yeah. What do you think, what's the biggest reason behind environmental pollution?

Tania: Maybe plastic pollution is a big reason, but I am not sure about the biggest reason. For me, it's a huge threat to the environment.

Taara: I agree with you. Do you know what impact we are having in the world, due to too much plastic pollution?

Tania: Yeah, the temperature is being high day by day. The ice is melting and the sea level is going up.

Taara: These are really threatening for the entire world. How can we get rid of this problem?

Tania: We need to stop every type of pollution.

Taara: Do you think it's possible?

Tania: Yes, it is possible. There are lots of countries in the world they proved that it's possible to reduce pollution.

Taara: Yeah. I think if we can't take proper steps then we won't be able to save the animals and the sea world. A huge number of animals are dying due to plastic and other types of pollution.

Tania: Yeah. We need to make people conscious of this.

Taara: Yeah. Thanks for your good conversation, Tania. See you, by for now.

Tania: Bye, take care.
