Essay on My Best Friend in 500 Words

Essay on My Best Friend in 500 Words

Introduction: Everyone has friends in their life, as like others I have too. Actually, I have lots of friends. But there is one thing, all friends are not the same. We always have one friend who is really special in our life. We address him as his best friend. So we all have one or two best friends in our life. Today I will share all the information about my best friend and will tell you who is a good friend and how to understand this.

Definition of a Good Friend: There are so many friends but everyone is not good. If you want to understand a friend good or bad, we need to follow a few rules. Today I will share these here. A good friend will never guide you to do a bad thing.

He will always forbid you to do any types of negative work. If he becomes fails to control you, he will leave you, but never support your bad thing. On the other hand, a bad friend will help you to do bad things. As an example, if any of your friends smoke and ask you to do smoking then, he is not a good friend.

A good friend will keep you away from bad habits. There are so many ways to understand someone's friendship. So we all need to find good friends and need to spend time with them. This will keep us away from obstacles and problems.

Who Deserve to Be Your Best Friend?: Before considering someone as a best friend, you have to understand a thing that deserves to become a best friend? A friend who is trusted and you can trust him easily. They will have your faith with their behavior.

So before considering a best friend, understand if he is trusted or not. Anyone won't allow a guy as a friend who lies a lot. Being a good student is also important. If your friend is a good student, you have a chance to do study better and improvise. Good students are better friends.

My Best Friend: My best friend's name is Ritika. We are studying together in class three. She is a really attractive girl. She is very popular in school, because of her dancing skill. She is an amazing dancer and won the district championship last year.

Everyone in the school loves and respects her. I really feel proud because of her success. She is a good student also. She never misses the class and helps me a lot to do my homework. She lives in my neighborhood. Her family is our family friend. They visit our house on every occasion and we also visit their house. We love spending time together and she is really funny. She has a good sense of humor. She shares lots of interesting stories with me.

Conclusion: Having a best friend is really important in life. I have got Ritika and she will remain as a best friend forever. We have lots of common things between us that are the strength of our friendship.

Essay on My Best Friend (600 Words)

Essay on My Best Friend in 600 Words

Introduction: Friendship is a really good relationship between two humans. We all have friends and we understand the importance of friendship very well. We need to respect this relationship and need to work making our friendship better with our friends. But in most of the case, we have a special friend who is totally different from the others, who are so much similar to me and who understand me very well. Yes, we all have that friend. We call him 'best friend'. Today I will share lots of things about my best friend.

My Best Friend: My best friend is Rajib, he is my classmate. We are studying together in primary school. We are childhood friends and spend most of our time together. After school, we meet and play in the nearest playground or spend time in the house.

Rajib's father is an Engineer and his mother is a housewife. He has been raised in a really good family with a good manner. He presents himself very politely in the school with everyone. He respects every single teacher and all the teachers like him a lot. Not only the teacher but also the students love him a lot.

Rajib's hobby is gardening. He has a very small garden in front of his house. Actually one of her elder cousins suggested he start gardening, from that time we together worked hard to make that plan true. Finally, now his garden is full of several flower trees. We are planning to seed some vegetables in the garden. I think he will be able to make the garden larger.

His family is really supportive. They care about him and give support to his works. His mother attends the class in every project or exam time. She is very aware of his study. As a result, he has been the top student in this class. I hope he will keep his performance continue in the near future.

His Special Skill: Rajib has a really amazing singing skill. We didn't know anything about this. But in an annual function, he planned to sing a song. I was thinking to listen to something ordinary. But in the day, he sang 'Amaro Porano Jaha Chay', a Rabindranath song with amazing tune and voice. The entire school was silent while he was singing. I was really impressed. I loved his skill. I requested him to keep continue singing. And he is very positive about this. I hope one day, he will be a very famous singer.

Our Common Interests: We have so many common things, especially in hobbies and general interests. As I said before he has got a garden and it's his hobby, I am also the same. Gardening is also my hobby. I am thinking to start my own garden. Except for gardening, he loves reading books like me. He has a family library in their house. When I visit their house I spend lots of time in the library. Sometimes I borrow a few books and send them back after reading.

Our Different Career Thinking: Besides singing he wants to become a doctor. And he is studying really hard for this. We have so much difference in thinking in this case. I always wanted to become a school teacher. I love teaching and I enjoy that profession. That's the only and biggest difference between our interests.

Conclusion: Overall, he is the best friend of mine. We love spending time together. He is very helpful and kind-hearted. He loves to help people. If anyone face a problem, he never refuses to help them.
