Essay on My Father in 500 Words

My Father Essay in 500 Words

Introduction:

Everyone talks about the love and affection of a mother in life. But most of the time we ignore the love and feelings for the father in all the shows, movies, and other things. Father is that person who gives us strength and support from the back.

Whatever we achieve in our life, the father has the biggest contribution to that. Most of the fathers are the ideal person for their kids. I am sharing about my father here.

About My Father:

My father is a farmer and we live in a village. He is a hard-working person. I am proud of my father. There are so many reasons why I am proud of him. First of all, I want to tell you about his life. He wakes up early in the morning and after breakfast, he takes all the cows on the field.

We have five big cows and we make a good amount of money selling milk. Then he goes to the paddy field. He works there till 2 PM. Then he comes back home and takes a shower and eats his lunch. Then he brings the cows back home.

And sometimes in the early morning, he takes milk from the cows. In the afternoon, he goes to the village market to buy all the necessary things. Then he comes back home. He goes to sleep at 10 PM. He is living a very simple life. But he is a hard-working person.

He is an honest man and that's why all the people around us believe him a lot. Everyone gives him respect and loves him. Our neighborhood is amazing. Everyone helps each other in need. My father is also very helpful and dedicated to the people.

Why My Father is a Hero?

I consider my father as a hero. There are so many reasons behind that. The first reason is he is the only person who makes money for the family. We are seven members of the family, but only he is supporting us financially.

We four siblings are students and he needs to spend a good amount of money for us every month. It's not easy for him. But he always does that successfully. I can't even imagine how hard working he is. He is a peaceful person who loves to live peacefully.

He never buys any expensive things for himself. He tries his best to make us happy. I feel lucky and great to become the son of him. I have never seen a person that much dedicated to his family.

His biggest dream is to make all of us educated. And we are dedicated to making his dream true. We have great bonding. He shares everything with me.

Conclusion:

I think my father is the person I love most. And I know he also loves me a lot. He is the most important person in my life. Whatever I am doing has been possible because of his contribution in my life.

He is My Role Model:

My father is the biggest role model for me. I follow him and I love to learn different things from him. He woke up early in the morning and I followed him. This habit changed my life entirely. I realized I get a long day to do all the work when I am an early bird.

We go for a walk together and at that time we talk about different things. He always inspires me to do my best. I love to listen about his business and all the stories about his failure and then success. He shares all these stories with me.

Importance of My Father in My Life:

It is not possible to describe in words how important a father is in his son's life. I can't imagine a single day without my dad. I always want to keep myself with him. He is my inspiration and motivation.

I love my father most in the world. He also loves me a lot. Whatever he does all day, but at the end of the day, he finds time to spend with me. We always have good times.

Sometimes we play different types of games. When he stays on leave, he takes me out, sometimes we even go to watch movies. He loves watching animation movies, because of me.

Things I Learned from My Father:

There are lots of things that I have learned from my father. The first thing is hard work. He always tells us that nothing is easy in life. You have to work hard to achieve something. And I believed in this quote.

I know I have to work hard to make my dream come true. He teaches me to become honest and kind. He is very helpful and I follow him.

I love to help poor people too. I know luck could change anytime, and I can be on a different side overnight. So I have to be nice with the poor people.

Conclusion:

That's all about my father. He is a living legend and a great personality for me. I get lots of inspiration from his life. All of his success stories give me goosebumps and end of the day, I want to become a successful businessman like him.

Essay on My Father in 700 Words

Essay on My Father in 700 Words

Introduction:

Father is that person who sacrifices all of his happiness for his kids. My father is not different. My dad is a very simple and happy person. He is the most important person in the family and we are going ahead because of his support.

I can tell that he is acting like a pillar of a huge building. I have lots of things to tell about my father and I will share them here. My father is a superman, a hero, and a role model for me. Always followed him and I never regretted that.

My Father:

My father's name is Jahid Hasan and he is an accountant in a government office. He is very fond of his colleagues and other officemates. He is known in our area because of his honesty, dedication, and a hard-working person.

He loves working. That's why he spends most of his time doing things that add benefit to our life. I am a happy boy and my father is a happy family, all that has been possible just because of my father. His contribution is uncountable for the entire family.

We all are having a good life because of his hard work. I always feel special about him and feel proud to have such an amazing dad. He is always super busy due to office work. But still, he finds time to play with me and take me out.

He is a movie lover. He loves watching old cinemas. When he gets some free time he starts watching them. The whole family goes to watch a movie in the theatre sometimes. He has some amazing hobbies and he is very passionate about all these things.

My Father is Different:

I can claim that my dad is different from others. I have some good reasons. When I was a kid, he started acting with me as a friend, and still, now we are the same. I think he has been able to keep that bonding between us strongly.

He is the only person who is earning in the family, but he never showed any ego or any anger to anyone. He is a soft-hearted person, but when he faces any challenges he can face that with lots of strength and courage. He was a great student in his student life and made himself successful by all his hard work.

My Father is My Hero:

He is a hero for me. I have loved to follow him since childhood. I feel great when I see my father and think about what he is doing. A couple of years ago, my village faced a huge flood. My father went there with a huge collection of food and medicine.

He worked there for almost a week and distributed them to villagers. He took the initiative on his own and worked very hard for that. I can remember, when he came back he was extremely tired. He loves to help people and work for society. He is connected with lots of social welfare groups too.

My Father as a Friend:

He is a good friend too. I can share all my things with him. From my childhood, I am sharing everything. And that has made everything easy between us. We don't have any gap. He is always a smiling person and he loves to spend time with me.

It has made us closer. I also enjoy spending time with my dad. He shares different types of stories and moral things that help me to grow better. I have realized in my life that all of his words came true. That's why I always obeyed him and I never regretted because of that.

Why Do I Like My Father?

There are so many reasons that are why I love him. First of all, he is my father and my best friend. He is the most important person in the family.

Whatever I am doing now is just because of him. He is a person with a smile and never a complaint. He supports everyone and gives the courage to fight against all odd things.

Conclusion:

I love my father a lot. And it's not possible to count the son's love for his father. And I know my father also loves me a lot. I think he is the best dad ever.
